Death of Captain D. A. Stofer at Huntersville—A Veteran of Two Wars.
[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

Huntersville, W. Va., November 23.—
The long and continued drought was broken Saturday last by a good rain, which was badly needed. The farmers are about through "cribbing" their crop of corn—the best that has been raised in this section for years.
Captain D. A. Stofer died very suddenly at the Huntersville Hotel on Friday night last. He was about seventy-one years old and was never married. He has no relatives in West Virginia. He has two brothers living in Virginis—one in Crange county and the other in Culpeper county.
Mr. Stofer was a Mexican soldier and had been drawing a pension. When the war broke out between the states Captain Storer raised a company and answored to the first call for volunteers. He left here with his company the 18th of May, 1801 and was mustered into service at Grafton, Va., (now West Virginia.) His company was attached to the Twenty-Afth Virginia Infantry and served through the war and was in all the bard-longht battles with Lee and Jackson-Peace be to his ashes.

[By Augh-American cable to the Dispatch.]
PARIS, November 21.—A dispatch from Lela, one of the centres of the coal-miners' strike in the Department of Pas de Caina, says a body of strikers attacked the engineers who were in charge of the machinery in a factory at that place. The factory had been able to secure a tuppin of coal, which rendered it independent of the mines in that vicinity, and this condition of affairs caraged the strikers, whose evident desire is to bring all the industries of the place to a standstill.

The military authorities had an idea that the strikers would make an attempt to compet the factory to shut down and they therefore ordered the detail of a small body of troops to protect the property and the employees. The strikers were very determined in their cushaught on the engineers, despite the presence of the soldiers. Finally, the troops took a hand in the matter, and after a sharp flat drave the strikers away. Many of the leaders of the attack were placed under arrest. tacked-Sharp Fight with Soldiers.

The following special to the Baltimore American from Chester, Pa., gives the circumstances of the death of Rev. Edmund W. Greaner, who was at one time in charge of the Howards-Grove Baptist church, and of whose sudden demise brief mention was made in Sanday's Disvaron:

Edmund W. Greaner, of Baltimore, for a year past has been a student at the Grozier Theological Seminary, and was among the brightest of the young men in the middle class. Three months ago he was married to a Baltimore girl, and since that time has been living at 310 east Eighth street, going to and from the seminary every day to attend the lectures. Tenerday morning he had a severe attack of nearraigh, and decided to stay at home for the day. Staying in the house was a young medical student from Philadelphia who was an infimate friend of young Greaner. Seeing his friend suffering severely, the medical student made up a dees of medicale in which he put part of a grain of aconite. measured seven feet three inches from tip to tip.

Harly Wallis, a colored virage, on Saturday evening took possession of dranville street and held it for over an hour, cursing and abusing every body that came along, and blocked the street up so that no one could pass. The officers attempted to arrest her and they were powerless for some time. At length they caught her, but she broke losse from them and fortified horself in her cook-shop and dafed them for some time. CAPTURES AND FINED.

At last a force strong enough to arrest her was collected and she was carried before the mayor, who fined her $14. The fine was inadequate for her offence, but the mayor fined her all that could be enforced under the ordinance of the town.

Scalded—Arrival of the Old Rebel.
(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.)
Windson, N. C., November 22.—One of the locomotives of the Caskie and Roanoke railroad ran off the track about two miles from town last night. The locomotive was a complete week, and the damages are estimated at $3,000. The engineer, freuman, and several of the train hands were scaled and burned very severely.

A good many accidents have happened on this read and several persons have been killed since it began operations in this county.

Schenck, robbing the family of about $50 in each, a watch, two or three pintols, and one shotgun. The remarkable part of the performance is that one of our daily papers had warned the town to be on the lockout for burglars, and acting on this advice the Judge and his sons get out their pistols and had them in readinces, but notwithstanding all those pre-autions the burglars entered their home at about 2 6 clock A. M. and solic even their pistols without awaking the boys. The Judge's daughter, however, heard a noise but did not make any alacm.

Tobacco-men are happy to-day at the sound of incoming tobacco wagons. The streets are lively with them and there will probably be a trymendous break on the market to-day. REPORTS FROM ALL GRAET BUSINESS CENTRES OF THE WORLD

New York, November 24 .- There was a continuation of the lack of telegraphic communication with the ontside world to-day, especially with the West, and the stock markot showed the effect of this in diminished dealings and practical stagnation. Had it not been for the coal shares the trading would have been utterly devoid of interest. The tone of the market, however, was generally firm within narrow limits, and while first prices were generally lower than those of last evening, the final figures are generally higher. The coal stocks were strong on good buying. Among the other stocks which displayed some strength were fire. Burlington, Wheeling, and Lake Eric preferred. The grangers as a rule were quasually quiet, owing to the interruption of communication with Chicago, the shrinkage in business being especially notable in St. Paul. THE TONE FIRM.
